A number of doctors rushed to Kakaako yesterday to look at a man who had eaten a hearty lunch. Are the medicos getting hungry?

Hawaiian Republican Club will hold a special meeting to-morrow night. They had better be there or their names will be called over.

Don't forget that mail for the other islands must be at the Post Office three hours before the sailing of the steamers. Fumigation is necessary.

Green bananas sent to the wharf for shipment on the Monowai were sold cheap, we are told, on Saturday and carted all over town by native purchasers. Another progressive cholera party!

S. L. Rumsey of Benson, Smith & Co., nearly met an accident yesterday while bathing at Waikiki. In spite of the rules printed by the Board of Health he took in too much water—salt at that. He was rescued by W. S. Bartlett and a native, Bartlett again administered "Duffy" without taking his clothes off.

An indignation meeting against the Board of Health will be called by the residents of the South street district if the immediate neighborhood of that quarter is not cleaned up. A dead horse was buried there a few days ago, says our informant, under the auspices of Dr. Howard and an agent of the Board of Health.

Capital In Council

The adjourned meeting of the Chamber of Commerce took place this morning at 10 a. m. F. A. Schaefer was in the chair with J. B. Atherton as secretary. About twenty representative merchants were present.

C. M. Cooke from the special committee reported that the committee had divided up in three sections. Mr. Hyman had been appointed to solicit subscriptions to pay for a special steamer. No report had yet been received but the speaker thought that $4000 had been secured. H. Hackfeld had been requested to see Wilder's S. S. Co. and he had reported back that that company was willing to allow the Chamber of Commerce the use of the Claudine at the rate of $400 a day. The speaker had been instructed to see the government. He had conferred with Mr. Hatch and asked the government to furnish substantial assistance. Minister Hatch had answered that the government at present could see no sense in assisting the people anxious to dispatch a steamer as new cases had appeared since the departure of the Monowai. This was the report of the committee. Henry Waterhouse moved that the report be received and considered with any eventual discussion by the Chamber.

T. R. Walker asked if the committee made any recommendation and, on receiving a negative, moved that consideration of the report be deferred until an official declaration on behalf of the Government has been made whether the port of Honolulu is an infected port or not.

John Ena suggested that further consideration of the matter be deferred until it was learned if the Government proposed to co-operate or not; and in case it did not see fit to assist; if sufficient money could be procured, then to charter a steamer would be best.

C. M. Cooke stated that the committee had not yet seen the Board of Health.

Mr. Hyman then appeared and stated that only $2500 had been subscribed, but that it was possible that $1500 more could be raised.

The motion of T. R. Walker was put and carried, and the chairman was authorized to notify Wilder's S. S. Co. that the Claudine was not needed to-day.

The amounts promised by subscribers were declared cancelled. The meeting then adjourned.
